Re: Demolition and disposition of 123 Scattered Site Units

HANO staff and consultants have thoroughly assessed the condition of the scattered sites portfolio. The assessments include a formal Physical Needs Assessment completed in 2009 and preliminary rehabilitation design conducted by local architectural and engineering firms in 2009 and 2010. Final rehabilitation costs were recently completed. As a result of these assessments, 123 vacant scattered site units were determined to be physically obsolete to a degree beyond that which would allow implementation of a reasonable program for rehabilitation. The buildings, many of which were damaged by Hurricane Katrina, contain significant termite damage, foundation and other structural deficiencies, and potentially hazardous materials. Significant and cost prohibitive renovations of these buildings would be required in order to remediate these conditions and to meet current building codes. To evidence obsolescence for demolition of a project, HUD considers rehabilitation not to be cost effective if costs exceed 57.14% of the Total Development Cost (TDC) for non-elevator structures. The rehabilitation costs range between 65.13% and 79.46% of the TDC for these buildings.

In consultation with scattered site residents, HANO has determined that it would be in the best interest of the Agency, residents and the public to demolish and dispose of these buildings consisting of 123 units. None of the units are currently occupied. The proposed demolition and disposition activity is included in HANO's 2012 PHA Plan which has been approved by HUD. The 24 CFR Part 58 Environmental Review process for the demolition and disposition of these units was approved by HUD in May 2011.

It is requested that the Board of Commissioners authorize the Administrator Receiver to submit the required demolition and disposition applications to HUD to authorize the demolition and disposition of these properties subject to HUD approval, and to authorize the Administrator Receiver to execute any and all documents necessary in connection with the demolition and disposition of the selected scattered sites.
