

NOLA Ready is the City of New Orleans' emergency preparedness campaign, managed by the New Orleans Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness.

Each year in New Orleans, hurricane season lasts from June to November.

Tropical weather begins with a low-pressure area of circling winds over water. A system can develop into a tropical depression, tropical storm, or a hurricane. Dangers include high winds, heavy rain, tornadoes, flooding, and power outages, which means you should insure your property for both wind and flood damage.

You're probably no stranger to these storms. Still, it's important to make a plan with your family in case a storm comes our way. This guide offers the basics.

There are extra things to consider during an emergency for seniors, young children, people with medical needs, and pet owners. Find more information on ready.nola.gov. Call 311 to sign up for the special needs registry if you are elderly or have medical or mobility needs.
